PROPOSALS
By WILLIAM COBBETT,
For importing the following periodical publications:

1. The British Critick;
2. The Anti-Jacobin Review and Magazine;
3. The Gentleman's Magazine;
4. Le Mercure Britanique, or The British Mercury.

THE British Critick is a regular Review of all the works published in Great Britain; it is conducted with great impartiality and ability, and of the numerous publications of the kind which do now appear, and which have appeared in Great Britain; it is universally allowed to be the best.

[Price 50 Cents.]

The Anti-Jacobin Review and Magazine is as its title seems to indicate, rather more confined, as to the nature of its subjects, but it certainly is not less calculated for extensive utility. This work is divided into four departments: 1 Original Criticism—2 A Review of the other Reviews—3 Occasional Essays, in prose and verse—and 4th, A Monthly Summary of History and Politics. Every six months it has a supplement, containing a review of foreign works, not forgetting those of America. The Anti-Jacobin dwells less on subjects which are merely literary and scientific, than on those which have a more immediate influence on society. With a bold and masterly hand, it corrects the blunderings of error, traces the intricate windings of misrepresentation, and strips off the mask of hypocrisy. The avowed champion of the church and the state, it spares the enemies of neither, whether open or secret; and, scorning the pusillanimous defensive, upon which the friends of truth have too long acted, it carries on a continual and vigorous offensive warfare against anarchy, immorality, and irreligion, and thus establishes by its uniform conduct, its right to the title it has assumed.

[Price 50 Cents.]

The Gentleman's Magazine, a work stamped with the approbation of three score years, consists chiefly, of communications from antiquaries and cultivators, and of original essays, in verse and prose written by the most learned and ingenious men in the kingdom, and embracing by turns, almost every subject interesting to man. The miscellaneous part of the work is followed by a selection of authentick foreign and domestick intelligence, including official reports, state-papers, and an abstract of the proceedings in parliament; next comes a very copious obituary, being not merely a list of deaths, but a valuable series of biography; to which is added, a Meteorological Diary and Table, a Bill of Mortality for London and its environs, a table of the average prices of corn, and of the stocks, for every day in the month: So that this work must ever be an entertaining and useful companion, not only to those who are of the learned professions, commonly so called, but to the merchant, the farmer, and, in short, to every man, whatever may be the subject of his study, or the object of his pursuit.

[Price 40 Cents.]

Le Mercure Britannique, or, British Mercury; by Monsieur Mallet Du Pan.—This work, of which one number is published every fortnight, in French and in English, commenced in August 1798, and is continued with encreasing spirit and celebrity. It is both historical and critical; it contains a summary, and is the repository, of all the important events, established facts and public instruments, which relate to the present æra; it investigates points of fact, of politics, and national rights; it extends its view over all the nations of Europe, examines the conduct and discloses the motives of their respective courts; it is in short a brief and comprehensive history of the times, equally remarkable for the elegance of its style, the profundity of its remarks, and the soundness of its principles.

[Price 50 Cents.]

These four works comprise every thing useful in the periodical way. Gentlemen may subscribe for all, or for either, of them. The first order is intended to be sent off on the 1st of May next; the successive numbers will be received at New York in two months upon an average after their publication in London, so that those which are subscribed for on or before the 1st of May, will be received in September; after which they will with very little irregularity, come to hand once a month, the importer having made such arrangements as cannot fail of securing punctuality on the part of his correspondents.

☞ Subscriptions will be received from any part of America, by J. W. FENNO, Philadelphia. No advance is required. The prices are but four cents a number higher than in London.

FACTS

Submitted to public consideration, as additional evidences of the efficacy of
Dr. HAMILTON'S MEDICINES,
Most Disorders to which the human body is liable.

RHEUMATISM.

JOHN HOOVER, Rope-maker, South Second street, between Mary and Christian streets, Philadelphia, voluntarily maketh oath, as follows: namely, that his wife, Mary Hoover, was so severely afflicted with violent rhematisms, very dangerously situated, the consequence of a cold after lying in, as to be confined to her bed for several weeks, and was at length reduced to the melancholy apprehension of remaining a cripple for life; notwithstanding the most respectable medical advice was followed, and every probable remedy attempted. When seeing several cases of cures performed by Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard, they were procured from Mr. Birch, No. 17, South Second street. The first application enabled her to walk across the room, and the use of one bottle restored her to her usual state of health and strength.

JOHN HOOVER.

Sworn and subscribed to the 25th day of March, 1800, before Ebenezer Ferguson, Esq. one of the Justices of the Peace for Philadelphia county.

DANGEROUS COLD.

DAVID GILBERT, Toyman, No. 46, South Fourth Street, Philadelphia, voluntarily maketh oath, as follows; namely, that about eight months ago, he caught a severe cold, which resisted every remedy he could think of, and produced the most alarming effects; he could procure no rest for incessant coughing, nor breathe without great pain and difficulty; and was finally so exhausted, as to be scarcely able to walk about, which left his friends little hopes of his recovery, though the prescriptions of a respectable physician were constantly attended to. In this situation hearing of the efficacy of Hamilton's Elixir, a bottle was procured from Mr. Birch, No 17, South Second street; the first dose of which afforded the most surprising relief, and gave him more ease than he had enjoyed during the whole of the above period, and before the contents of one bottle were taken, he was perfectly cured, his strength and appetite recovered, and not a symptom of his former distressing complaints remained.

The above particulars the said David Gilbert wishes to be made public, as a testimony of his gratitude, and for the benefit of mankind.

DAVID GILBERT.

Sworn and subscribed before me the 24th day of March, 1800.

JOHN JENNINGS, Alderman.

TO PARENTS

Who may have Children afflicted with the Hooping Cough,

This discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable—The Elixir is so perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small, that no difficulty arises in taking it.

WORMS.

A daughter of Mr. Ewing Wiley, No. 109, Cedar street, Philadelphia, was dreadfully afflicted with worms, insomuch that her life was with great reason despaired of; her complexion faded and grew pale and sallow; her eyes sunken; her appetite was lost, and succeeded by a painful and constant sickness at the stomach; which general wasting and debility was accompanied with every appearance of a dangerous fever. From this deplorable situation she was relieved, and restored to a state of perfect health and strength in a few days, by the use of Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which expelled a great number of large pointed worms, from six to nine or twelve inches in length; one of which being a most extraordinary thickness, (supposed from half an inch to an inch in diameter) was opened and found to contain a quantity of young ones.

The above is communicated by Mr. Wiley, believing its perusal may be useful to many, by extending the knowledge of a medicine which merits universal attention: But this testimony is only a corroboration of the evidence of MORE THAN FIFTY THOUSAND persons of all ages, who have, within twenty months past, been cured by this medicine, with the utmost ease and safety, of various complaints, arising from worms and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

Dr. Hamilton's Grand Restorative

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine, for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints which result from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution; the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication, or any other destructive intemperance; the unskilful or excessive use of mercury; the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life; bad lyings in, &c.

And is proved by long and extensive experience to be absolutely unparalelled in the cure of nervous disorders, consumptions, lowness of spirits, loss of appetite, impurity of the blood, hysterical affections, inward weaknesses, violent cramps in the stomach and back, indigestion, melancholy, gout in the stomach, pains in the limbs, relaxations, involuntary emissions, seminal weaknesses, obstinate gleets, flour albus (or whites) impotency, barrenness, &c.

This medicine is perfectly different in its qualities and operation from those hot and irritating drugs so frequently proposed for similar purposes, and which only recommend themselves by the dangerous rapidity of their effects, and which, acting as a temporary but violent stimulus on the nervous system, infallibly produce greater evils than those they are intended to remove.

The principal operation of this remedy is in the stomach, restoring the digestive powers, and sending from that organ new health, and vigour into every part of the system. It enriches and purifies the blood without inflaming it; brace, without stimulating too violently the nervous system; strengthens the secretory vessels and the general habit; brings back the muscular fibres to their natural and healthy tone; and restores that nutrition which immoderate evacuations, have destroyed, and whose loss had thrown the whole frame into langor and debility.

The Restorative is absolutely above all recommendation, in removing those weaknesses and infirmities with which many females are afflicted, the consequences of difficult and painful labours, or of injudicious treatment therein.

The most obstinate seminal gleets; and the most distressing cases of flour albus in females falls particularly under the province of this restorative; speedily yield to its benign operation, and are radically cured, by correcting and purifying the acrimonious humors, restoring a proper degree of tension to the relaxed fibres, and strengthening the weakened organs.

In cases of extremity where the long prevalence and obstinacy of disease has brought on a general impoverishment of the system, excessive debility of the whole frame, and a wasting of the flesh, which no nourishment or cordial could repair, a perseverence in the use of this medicine has performed the most astonishing cures.

The grand restorative is prepared in pills as well as in a fluid form, which assists considerably in producing a gradual and lasting effect. Their virtues remain unimpaired for years in any climate.

Within this period upwards of eight thousand patients have experienced its salutary effects.

With the medicine is given, a description of the symptoms which obtain in every stage of the disease with copious directions for their treatment, so as to accomplish a perfect cure in the shortest time, and with the least inconvenience possible.

Infallible ague and fever drops.
A long eulogium on the virtues of this medicine is unnecessary, as the money will be returned if the patient is not relieved, it never having failed in many thousand cases, not one in a hundred has had occasion to take more than a bottle and numbers not half a bottle.

IMPORTANT STATE PAPER.

DONAUESCHINGEN, Dec. 4.

Address of his royal highness the Arrchduke Charles to the interior circles of the empire.

It is from a ſentiment of the moſt urgent neceſſity that I feel myſelf compelled to ſpeak to you on a ſubject, and certain diſpoſitions, from which may reſult very great injury to the common cauſe of the Germanic empire. I ſee with regret, that upon the late events in France, by which the ſupreme power has paſſed into other hands, has been founded almoſt every where the hope that has ſo often proved deceitful, of an approaching pacification; and that in the confidence of this premature ſuppoſition has been aſſumed the power of deferring the putting off the contingents in activity, and the accompliſhment of its other conſtitutional obligations. A heart truly German and patriotic, and a mind enlightened by ſuch ſad experience, cannot abſolutely commit ſuch imprudence; ſuch conduct would deprive us of the only means of concluding a ſpeedy peace, upon terms juſt and proper, and which may prove ſolid and permanent. We ought not entirely to forget the maxim that we ſhould prepare vigorouſly for war, when we wiſhed for peace; and we ſhall obtain the latter much the more ſoon, and on terms the more advantageous, when the enemy ſhall ſee us in a ſtate to continue the war, ſhould he be diſpoſed to continue his imperious tone, and to preſcribe once more a peace that would bring with it ſhame and ſlavery, or infallibly lead to them. Too often has the hope, indulged with ſo much precipitation, reſpecting France, proved deceitful, to ſuffer theſe new events to ſeduce and lull the ſtate into a falſe ſecurity. It has been ſeen uniformly to the preſent hour, that every new faction in France has ſpoken a great deal about peace, not for the purpoſe of concluding one on equitable terms but to gain popularity; that they have often the word peace in their mouths, and are continually commencing new wars; or that by the word peace, they have meant nothing but the extermination of their enemies. The event which has taken place in France on the 9th of November, conſidered in a near point of view, is not of a nature to be able to afford us all at once, a full confidence. Some of thoſe who have poſſeſſed themſelves of the ſupreme power, are the ſame men, who ſo often, by their principles, and the whole courſe of their public life, have ſworn mortal hatred and eternal enmity to all other ſtates not conſtituted like their own; who have overturned ſome, and perfidiouſly ſubjugated others in full peace.

The ſpirit even which manifeſts itſelf in the public writing of France is not ſo pacific; it is there frequently declared, that this new revolution has no other object but to raiſe the republic to the rank which it ought to hold in Europe. The late directory is blamed there not for having commenced war, but for having carried it on unſucceſsfully; not for having conquered new provinces; but for having loſt ſeveral. In their proclamations they begin alway• with ſpeaking of victories, and they afterwards talk of peace; a clear indication that circumſtances do not appear yet ſufficiently favorable for the latter, and that they would wiſh ſtill to try the fate of arms before they would think of concluding it. The miniſter of war openly announces, that he is employed in re-inforcing the army, and procuring it every thing neceſſary. He adds, that he will take a part himſelf in its dangers, as ſoon as the ſeaſon permits the opening of the campaign—and that he is preparing for it new triumphs. There has not been yet on the part of France relaxations in the preparations for war to juſtify the Germans to relax their; but, on the contrary, a new corps is to be formed in the four non-United departments. But even though we might have no grounds to conceive any diſtruſt reſpecting the views and objects of the rulers of France. the new revolution is not ſufficiently confirmed in its ſeat to inſpire a full confidence that it may not be overturned like the reſt. Finally, the queſtion is not here of ſuch a peace as every convention or armiſtice might be called. The queſtion is ſafety; the conditions for which we eſſentially contend; conditions which the honor, dignity, liberty, the integrity of the Germanic empire, and inviolability of our deareſt treaties demand. The queſtion is a juſt, fit and durable peace, in the ſenſe of the deciſions of the diet, which may ſecure religion, property, civil order, and the conſtitution of the empire.

I invite you to weigh maturely theſe conderations with the patriotic ſentiments with which you are inſpired, and then you will certainly agree with me that prudence imperiouſly requires that you ſhould not be ſeduced into inactivity by the reports of an approaching peace and principles more moderate, or to law down your arms until peace ſhall be ſigned—You will feel with me the neceſſity of not delaying the meaſures of defence, but on the contrary of redoubling our efforts, augmenting our forces and accompliſhing with the greateſt activity, and in the moſt ſerious manner, the deciſion, renewed and confirmed by the reſolutions of the diet, for the common defence, that we may be able to oppoſe an energetic maſs of efforts to the views of the enemy, whatever they may be. It is only by an impoſing military force that we ſhall be able to prevent the enemy from making new devaſtating attacks, abridge or terminate the evils of war, ameliorate the conditions of pacification, and finally accelerate a peace that may deſerve the name of one, and recompence the multiplied ſacrifices by which we hav for a long time ſince ſought to procure it."

ST. PIERRE, (Martinico) Jan. 25.

A ſchooner privateer, (formerly the Portland) was captured off the Pearl by the ſhip Bittern's tender, after a ſmart action; the tender had one man killed and the captain dangerouſly wounded; the privateer had three men killed and eight wounded.

The Invincible captured a French brig of 14 guns ſtom Bourdeaux to Guadaloupe, and drove a French ſhip on ſhore that accompanied the brig; the brig is now in Fort Royal.

His Majeſty's ſhip Surinam has ſent a French privateer ſchooner into Fort Royal.

The brig Lord Duncan, from hence to Bermuda is arrived ſafe. In lat. 28, fell in with a French privateer ſchr. of 12 guns, which engaged her for four and a half hours at cloſe quarters, but beat off; the brig had the mate killed and nine men badly wounded.

The Cork fleet was convoyed by l'Amiable, who re-captured an Engliſh Indiaman, and engaged in a running fight two French republican frigates, bound to Cayenne, with Victor Hugues and 600 troops.

Jan. 31. The ſchr. Invariable is taken to leeward of Dominica; the French privateer was afterwards captured by the United States ſhip Adams; the mate and ſix of the Invariable's crew are arrived.

The brig Pearl, from Newfoundland, is captured and carried into Guadaloupe.

The Invincible has captured and carried into Fort Royal, a brig with a valuable cargo from Bremen.

VENICE, January 2.

The approaching campaign will be carried on with the utmoſt vigour in Italy, on the part of the Auſtrians. Orders have already been iſſued that all the regiments ſhall be recruited to their full number within two months, and freſh troops are on their march to the main army. It is hoped that during the winter the enemy will be completely driven out of the Genoeſe, and ſoon as the weather will admit, the armies will act with concentrated force againſt the French territory—From Leghorn we receive the moſt favourable acounts of the operations of General Klenau againſt Genoa. According to theſe he is at Quinto, 31 leagues from Genoa. A Ruſſian ſhip is arrived at Leghorn from Spezzia, with battering artillery to be employed againſt fort Syrone, which protects the walls of Genoa. By order of admiral Nelſon, the Tuſcan trading veſſels will receive the ſame protection from his fleet as the Engliſh ſhips: he has likewiſe ſent a ſhip of war to cruize between Leghorn, the iſle of Elba, and Corſica to protect the trade of Lghorn.

TURIN, January 2.

Accounts from Suſa, ſtate, that Colonel Gajoli, of the regiment Archduke Charles, attacked the enemy on the 29th of December, who had retained quiet poſſeſſion of their poſition near St. Anton, ever ſince the third of Novemb r. After a ſmart engagement, the French were repulſed beyond Suza.

Along the Riviera of Genoa, the French have evacuated Melongo and Bardinetto; but ſome of their troops ſtill remain at Finale and its neghbourhood.

INTEND TO OPEN,

An Academy,

CONSISTING OF

1. AN Engliſh School, in which will be taught Reading, Writing, Engliſh Grammar, Compoſition, Elocution, and Natural Hiſtory.

2d. A Mathematical School, in which will be taught Writing, Arithmetic, Mercantile Accounts, Geography and the uſe of the Globes, Geometry, or the elements of Euclid, Trigonometry, both Plane and Spherical, Menſuration, Gauging, Surveying, Navigation, in all its parts, Dialling, Conic-ſections, Fortification, Gunnery, Aſtronomy, Algebra and Fluxions, with their application to the different parts of Mathematics. This department will be conducted By MR. PETER DELAMAR, formerly Profeſſor of Mathematics in the Royal Military and Marine Academy, Dublin—and latterly in THE FRIGATE UNITED STATES.

3d. A Claſſical School, in which will be taught the Latin and Greek Languages, in conjunction with Chronology, Civil Hiſtory, Rhetoric, and the Inſtitutes of Moral Science.

A well grounded conviction of the expediency of the foregoing plan, has been our principal inducement to undertake it. When it is conſidered that this populous and flouriſhing Metropolis contains only one Public Inſtitution on an extenſive plan, and that many of our youth are obliged to reſort to other States, to receive even a Grammar-School Education, the Seminary now propoſed, will, we truſt, be regarded as eminently uſeful.

Actuated by theſe conſiderations, many gentlemen, friends to Science, and to Literary Eſtabliſhments, have urged, with great warmth, the preſent undertaking, and excited the moſt flattering expectations of its ſucceſs.

Thus encouraged by the countenance and promiſed aid of liberal men, no leſs than by a firm perſuaſion that well-regulated Academies have a moſt important influence upon manners, habits, and principles; it will be our earneſt endeavor ſo to conduct this Seminary of Learning, as to ſubſerve the great Intereſts of Religion and Morality, to promote Decorum of Behaviour, Correctneſs of Taſte, Liberality of Sentiment, and every other attribute of an ingenuous mind, which, in connection with good principles, and ſound literature, conſtitute the diſtinguiſhed ornaments of the gentleman, and the ſcholar.

The building, engaged for this Academy, though affording excellent accommodation, will be relinquiſhed for a more central ſituation, if ſuch a change ſhould be found neceſſary.

Perſons deſirous to be employed as TUTORS in this Seminary, are requeſted to apply, without delay, to either of the ſubſcribers, to whom alſo Parents wiſhing to ſend their children, will pleaſe to make application.

AN AUTHOR'S EVENINGS.

There have been many attempts, particularly in the Engliſh language, to employ technical terms and alluſions in humorous poetry. Perhaps no one was ever happier than the following, addreſſed

To an IRONMONGER, on his Birth Day.

Oh, Lockman, may thy angel true
Thy chain of life extend,
And add a thouſand links thereto;
So prays thy merry friend.

And may'ſt thou neither ruſt nor ſtain,
Nor canker ever feel;
With heart as ſoft as ſilken ſkein,
Thy ribs be ribs of ſteel.

Loud as a cannon through the land,
May thy good name reſound;
And the ſtrong hammer of thy hand
Thy enemies confound.

Aided by thee my verſes flow,
Their tinkle owe to thee;
As iron ſharp'neth iron, ſo
Thy friendſhip ſharp'neth me.

Keen be thy ſenſe, like ſword that's try'd,
Thy wit, like point of prong,
Thy judgment, like a ſaw, divide
The right ſide from the wrong.

Firm as an anvil may'ſt thou bear
The ſtrokes of every clime;
And, like a harden'd file, ſtill wear
The teeth of envious time.

Round in thyſelf, like poliſh'd ball,
Shine always ſmooth and bright;
When other ironmongers fall
May'ſt thou ſtand bolt upright.

And when life's forge will work no more,
Fire gone, and metal cold,
Alchymiſt death, at touch, thy ore
Shall all tranſmute to gold.

While ploughs ſhall turn the fertile mould,
While needles ſeek the pole,
While fetters, locks and bars ſhall hold,
Thy love ſhall nail my ſoul.

Lines to a Lady, with a chaplet of red and white Roſes.

In this florid wreathe unite,
Roſes red, and roſes white;
Take it, beauteous maid, and trace
In the white my love ſick face:
But the red's an emblem true
Of my heart, inflam'd by you.

FRUGALITY IN LOVE.

Not always give a melting kiſs,
And ſmiles with pleaſing whiſpers join'd;
Nor always, extaſi'd with bliſs,
About my neck thy fair arms wind.

The wary lover learns by meaſure
To circumſcribe his greateſt joy;
Leſt, what, well huſbanded, yields pleaſure,
Might, by the repetition, cloy.

When thrice three kiſſes I require,
Give me but two, withhold the other;
Such as cold virgins to their ſire,
Or chaſte Diana gives her brother.

Original Stanza from an Iriſh Ballad.

"You ſaid you lov'd me, Molly dear,
Ah, why did I believe;
Yet, who'd have thought ſuch tender words
Were meant but to deceive.
Though thou prove falſe, may Heaven on thee
Its choiceſt bleſſings pour;
Ah Grammachree, ma collenogue,
My Molly I adore."

Juſt at this time, America, who ſometimes loves a joke, and revolutionary muſic, has, in a placid humour, parodied and ſweetly ſings, in all public places the following:

You ſaid you lov'd me, Gallia dear,
I Buonaparte believe;
For, who can think his ſugar'd words
My* Davy can deceive.

Though, thou art falſe, I beg on me
You'll ſmile, you cunning whore;
Ah, Ians Murree, ma ſweet Murree,
Ma Murree,—treat once more.

*Thoſe, who remember the ill luck of Meſſ. Marſhall, Pinckney and Gerry, ſhivering in the anti chamber of Regicide, the door flung in their face, the inſolent not at home of the crippled apoſtate, and the amuſing chit chat of X. Y. and a lady, may, with no great violence, imagine ſome delicate embarraſſments ariſing in the new court of Buonaparte, when the Chief Juſtice of the United States, on his knees to the French high-waymen, implores them to return the watches and the purſes, which THEY HAVE STOLEN. If another lady ſhould be procured by the French Mountebanks to trifle with a grave Embaſſy, a lover of alluſions, recollecting at once the name of one of our Envoys, and a line from another Iriſh ditty may repeat

"A loving couple met, one day,
Kate and Davy, Kate and Davy—
Come let's a treaty make, I pray,
Says bonny Kate to Davy.

On Tueſday the 8th inſtant, a duel was fought in Richmond, Virginia, between captain Meriwether Jones, and James Rind, Eſq. We have not learnt the particulars of this affair, except that the latter gentleman received a wound in the body; but we are happy to hear it is not likely to prove mortal. [Vir. Gaz.

The American Conſul, and a number of Spaniſh and American Merchants at the Havanna, have publiſhed a letter to William Bainbridge, Eſq. of the Norfolk ſloop of war, thanking him for his exertions in the protection of their Commerce.

DIED.]—On the 1ſt inſtnt, after a very ſhort illneſs, Traugott Bagge, Eſq. of Salem, in the State of North Carolina.—Mr. Bagge was the general friend of mankind, and reſpected by all who knew him; and it is but juſtice to ſay, that in this diſpenſation of providence, ſociety has loſt, in him, one of her higheſt ornaments; but which, whilſt it fills every heart with ſorrow, muſt afford infinite ſatisfaction to his acquaintance, in the recollection of his examples through life; all which tended to promote induſtry, improve ſociety, and make plain the paths of virtue, honeſty and punctuality, and to ſecure the felicities of a future ſtate.

The above is a juſt tribute to the character of Mr. Bagge, by a friend who knew him well.

PROFOUND POLITICS!

FROM THE VIRGINIA FEDERALIST.

The friends of humanity muſt deplore the proſpect preſented by the late European advices, received by the Pallas, arrived at New York.

Buonaparte's renewed propoſals for peace have been rejected with conſiderable hauteur, and this deſirable event ſeems to be now almoſt as diſtant as ever. Neither the duration of the conteſt, nor the unparalleled calamities which have reſulted from it, have depreſſed the ſpirit of war; but on the contrary, the preparations for the preſent campaign exceed in magnitude and extent thoſe of any former period.

It is highly probable that the very formidable force embodied under the command of the Chouan chiefs (to whom four Engliſh frigates lately diſpatched for that purpoſe, ſucceſsfully debarked ample ſupplies of arms ammunition and money) was the principal inducement of overtures towards an accommodation on the part of the French Conſul, and alſo of their rejection by his Britannic Majeſty: But to whatever cauſe the failure was owing, the people of France muſt now perceive that the only means of ſaving themſelves from the horrors of the antient deſpotiſm conſiſt in the moſt vigorous reſiſtance. In the preſent urgency of their ſituation union among themſelves ſeems eſſential to the attainment of liberty, and the right of ſelf-government; and although we are not advocates for the "RIGHTS OF MAN" to that unqualified and extravagant extent which renders government a mere nullity, and the ſocial ſyſtem nothing more than a farce, yet are we free to declare our wiſhes that this union may take place.

It is ridiculous in the extreme, and inſulting to common ſenſe, to pretend to entertain no deſire to preſcribe to France any particular form of government; when in the very ſame ſentence, we diſcover that the particular form of government which France has elected, is made the oſtenſible baſis of objection to the propoſed peace, and the reſtoration of the monarchy referred to, in terms of ſine qua non, too plain to be miſunderſtood.

It is admitted that war cannot be more diſaſtrous than a dangerous and illuſive peace; but we ſee nothing in the French Conſtitution, which can warrant the idea, that a peace made with the preſent ruler of France would be of that nature.

Under this impreſſion we hope that the rumour of the Portſmouth frigate being diſpatched to our miniſters with counter orders is altogether unfounded. Conſiſtency in the government requires a renewal of pacific inſtructions. In all the changes and chances of the French revolution, America has recognized the right of the people of France to alter or aboliſh exiſting inſtitutions and ſubſtitute others: In all theſe changes ſhe has aſſidiouſly ſought for peace, and as the object is important at the preſent as at any prior period, we ſee no juſt cauſe or motive why it ſhould be abandoned—While therefore we fear no foreign power, it muſt be our intereſt to cultivate the friendſhip of all

NEW-YORK, April 16.

Extract of a letter from an American Gentleman at the Court of Madrid to another in Cadiz, dated Feb. 1800, handed to us by a gentleman who came paſſenger in the brig Succeſs, arrived here yeſterday from Cadiz.

"Two Couriers have arrived here from Paris within three days. Buonaparte having failed in his attempt to negociate with the Chouans, has iſſued a proclamation to his ſoldiers, ordering them to put to death every perſon found in arms againſt the French Republic in La Vendee, and alſo to burn and totally deſtroy every town or village that has taken part with the Chouans. This begins a war of extermination. It is not known how many men Buonaparte will be able to ſend againſt La Vendee. It is thought it will not exceed forty thouſand men. General Brune is appointed to command this expedition. On the ſucceſs of the war in La Vendee will depend the fate of France. It will either place Louis on the Throne or eſtabliſh Buonaparte ſtrongly in his preſent power. The extreme poverty of the treaſury of France, and the few reſources they have, makes it difficult for Buonaparte to carry his plan into execution. He was lately obliged to ſuſpend all kinds of payments from the treaſury for 15 days, that a ſmall ſum might be ſent from it for the preſent relief of the armies. It is certain that a triple alliance has lately taken place between the two Emperors and England. They each engage to ſupport and carry on the war till Louis ſhall be placed on the throne of France. A freſh body of Ruſſians are now on their march to join the Imperial armies."

CONGRESS.

HOUSE of REPRESENTATIVES.

WEDNESDAY, April 16.

The bill for the regulation of public arſenals and magazines, was read a third time and paſſed.

On motion of Mr. D. Foſter, the committee of claims were diſcharged from the further conſideration of the petition of Alexander Spotſword, and it was referred to the committee of the whole houſe to whom is referred the petition of Temple Elliott, and others.

Mr. D. Foſter, from the committee of claims made a report on the petition of Major Thomas Johnſon, who, prayed compenſation for a party of militia on an expedition againſt the Indians in 1794—the report is favourable to the claim of the petitioners, and recommends that proviſion be made by law for allowing the compenſation requeſted.

The report was committed for to-morrow.

Mr. Brace, from the committee to whom was referred ſeveral petitions relative to lands purchaſed from Judge Symmes, reported a bill to provide for the diſpoſition of the lands between the Great and Little Miami River—which was read and committed.

The Houſe again reſolved itſelf into a committee of the whole on the petition of Temple Elliott and others—Mr. Rutledge in the chair—when the unfavourable report of the committee of claims on the petition of David Jones, and Mm. Rodgers, chaplains to the American army during the revolutionary war, who prayed for bounty lands, was agreed to, ayes 36, noes 23.

The committee then roſe, and the concurred.

Mr. New then offered a reſolution, directing a bill to be brought in to authorize the Preſident of the United States to grant patents for lands due to certain officers for their military ſervices in the continental army during the revolutionary war, which were granted by the ſtate of Virginia, and have hitherto been with withheld from them in conſequence of the act of ceſſion made by ſaid ſtate.

The reſolution was agreed to, and a committee appointed for that purpoſe.

Mr. S. Smith brought in a bill to eſtabliſh the diſtrict of Kennebunk, and to annex Lyme to New-London; to alter the diſtrict of Bermuda Hundred and City Point, and further to amend the act regulating the collection of duties on imports and tennage.

The amendments of the Senate to the bill to continue in force the act intituled an act to authoriſe the defence of merchant veſſels of the United States againſt French depredations, and to the bill ſupplementary to the act regulating trade and intercourſe with the Indian tribes, and to preſerve peace on the frontiers, were taken up and concurred in.

The bill ſent from the Senate, permitting the exportation of certain parcels of gunpowder, muſkets and cutlaſſes, was read a firſt and ſecond time, and referred to the Committee of Commerce and Manufactures.

The houſe reſolved itſelf into a committee of the whole on the bill to preſcribe the mode of deciding diſputed elections of Preſident and Vice Preſident of the United States, Mr. Rutledge in the chair, when

Mr. Marſhall moved to ſtrike out that part of the firſt ſection which contains the prineipal features of the bill, viz. that the Senate ſhall appoint the chairman of the Grand Committee; that their deciſions ſhall be final and concluſive, &c.

Mr. Harper thought this would go to the entire deſtruction of the bill—he was not prepared to ſay theſe principles ſhould be agreed to, but he thought there ought to be ſome inveſtigation, as the bill contemplated, he would therefore recommend the honorable mover to modify his motion ſo as to try the ſecond principle, that of the deciſion of the Grand Committee being final and concluſive.

Mr. Marſhall ſaid, he was by no means an enemy to this bill; but he entertained ſome doubts as to the conſtitutionality of its proviſions at preſent. After dwelling for ſome time on particular clauſes of the conſtitution, Mr. M. read the amendment which he would make if the motion for ſtriking out was agreed to.

A ſhort debate enſued, when Mr, Nicholas moved that the committee riſe, report progreſs, and aſk leave to ſit again, which was carried; and Mr. Marſhall's amendment was ordered to be printed.

The houſe reſolved itſelf into a committee of the whole on the bill to make appropriations for the military eſtabliſhment for the year 1800—and after filling up the blanks in the bill it was ordered to be engroſſed and read a third time to-morrow.

The bill allowing an additional ſalary to the officers of both houſes of Congreſs, was agreed to in committee of the whole, and ordered to be read a third time to-morrow.

Mr. Varnum called up for conſideration the reſolution which he laid on the table directing the clerk to procure twelve copies of Hertie's digeſt of the laws of the United States—and the ſame having been again read, was agreed to by the houſe.

Mr. H. Lee's motion for appointing a committee to prepare a ſyſtem of rules and regulations for the government of the diſtrict of Columbia, was alſo agreed to; yeas 50; and a committee of five appointed for that purpoſe.

The favorable report of the ſelect committee on the petition of William Tazewell, Eſq. late ſecretary of Mr. Gerry, was debated in committee of the whole, and agreed to, yeas 39; nays 30; and a bill ordered to be brought in for his relief.—Adjourned.

RALEIGH, (N. C.) April 8.

Laſt week, ſome ſerious diſagreement having taken place between two men of the names of Bridges and Simms, near Smithfield, we underſtand the former way-laid the latter, and ſhot him; and, on flying from his purſuers, Bridges was afterwards ſhot at and wounded. He is now lodged in Smithfield goal.

LAND,

LYING on the Potomac River, county of Northumberland, ſtate of Virginia; containing about 1400 acres—its ſituation is equal to any other in the Northern Neck, remarkable for every kind of wild fowl, oyſters, fiſh and crab, and none better for health. It is about the ſame diſtance from Baltimore, Alexandria and Norfolk, and not more than one days ſail from either. There are three improved plantations with dwelling houſes, the one known by the name of Exeter Lodge, formerly the reſidence of col. John Gordon, is an elegant two ſtory brick houſe, with four rooms on a floor, and a paſſage ſixteen feet wide.

TERMS

Of Richard Folwell, in Philadelphia,

FOR SUBSCRIBING TO THE

JOURNALS OF CONGRESS,

From the commencement

Of the American War, in 1774, to the present time,

INCLUDING

The Reports of Heads of Departments, of Committees, and other Official and Private Papers of that Body, now first permitted to be made public.

TERMS.

THE work will be printed on a fine paper, and a new neat type, in large octavo.

Each volume will contain above 500 pages, neatly bound and lettered.

Uniformity in ſize, paper, and binding, will be obſerved throughout the work; ſo that, while the ſubſcribers become poſſeſſed of a valuable record, an ornament may be added to their libraries.

The price to ſubſcribers will be 2 dolls. 75 cts. per volume, in boards, and 3 dolls. whole bound, but, as the publiſher does not intend to print manmore than the number ſubſcribed for, a conſiderable riſe on the price may be expected to non-ſubſcribers.

Each volume will contain about one third leſs of letter-preſs than the original edition; but, as the publiſher is not yet enabled to determine the extent of the Private Journals, which he may be allowed to make public, he cannot aſcertain the number of volumes which will compriſe the work.

☞ Payments to be made on delivery of each volume.

Subſcribers will have it at their option, either to ſubſcribe for the whole of the Journals, up to the preſent time, or to thoſe only of the Old Congreſs' prior to the organization of the Federal Government.

IN all countries, the proceedings in the commencement of their governments, are loſt in darkneſs and obſcurity, owing to a careleſsneſs, in the ſucceeding generation, to preſerve the public records, and the attention of the nation, in thoſe rude ages, being called off from their domeſtic concerns, to engage in wars and conqueſt. Of what infinite value would the laws of Alfred be, had they been tranſmitted to our days? Time, that deſtroys every thing, enhances the value of well authenticated public records, and renders them almoſt inеſtimable. It is hoped, that Americans will, therefore, chearfully contribute their aſſiſtance in tranſmitting to poſterity the labours of their anceſtors—founders of the Columbian nation.

 The work will certainly be advanced with expedition and promptitude. The following will ſhew the ſupport it has already acquired.

" Philadelphia, June 15, 1798.

" To the Honorable the Senate and Houſe of Repreſentatives of the United States.

" The MEMORIAL of the Subſcribers, Citizens, &c. of Philadelphia,

" Reſpectfully ſheweth,

" That having, in our reſpective avocations, frequent occaſions to recur to the Journals of Congreſs, we experience inconvenience by the ſcarcity of them: That we underſtand that Richard Folwell, printer, of Philadelphia, has had it in contemplation to print that public record; and that he hath obtained partial countenance from many individuals; but that he has delayed proſecuting the work, in expectation of encouragement from government, that may adequately indemnify him. We, therefore, reſpectfully ſolicit, as the publication is neceſſary to be diſſeminated among public bodies, that Congreſs will, in their wiſdom render him ſuch additional encouragement, to that which he has obtained from private individuals, as to enable him to proceed with the work, ſo that your Memorialiſts may be enabled to purchaſe copies of that record for themſelves.

MAP OF NEW-JERSEY.

THE commiſſioners appointed for the purpoſe of circulating ſubſcription papers, to the propoſed plan of procuring an accurate Map of New-Jerſey, immediately after their appointment tranſmitted printed copies of the plan to various perſons in the ſeveral counties of this ſtate, and in the cities of New York and Philadelphia, and ſince that time, through the medium of the public prints, have requeſted the gentlemen entruſted with thoſe papers, to return the number of ſubſcribers by them reſpectively procured, to James Salter, Eſq. at Trenton, on or before the 6th day of February laſt. The number of ſurſcriptions received, not amounting to two thouſand, the commiſſioners did not conceive themſelves authorized to fix a day for the meeting of the company; neverthleſs being of opinion from reſpectable information, that the actual ſubſcriptions are nearly, if not fully, adequate to the complete organization of the company, if they could be aſcertained by regular returns, and being convinced that a traſſling degree of exertion, on the part of the perſons holding the ſubſcription liſts, would enable them to carry the intention of the ſubſcribers into effect, they have by the unanimous advice and conſent of the ſubſcribers, whom they have been able to conſult, fixed on the 14th day of May next, being the 2d day of the ſitting of the ſupreme court, for a meeting of the ſubſcribers at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, at the State Houſe in Trenton, for the purpoſe of electing five Truſtees and a Treaſurer, if the number of ſubſcriptions ſhould be ſufficient, or in any event to determine on the meaſures neceſſary to ſecure the attainment of an object ſo uſeful to the ſtate.

From the univerſal approbation exhibited by their fellow-citizens, at the commencement of this undertaking, it was to be expected that the ſubſcriptions returned would have enſured its immediate execution, and the commiſſioners are purſuaded if proper attention is paid to the procuring of ſubſcriptions, to their punctual return at the time fixed for the meeting, and to the attendance of the ſubſcribers, either in perſon or by proxy, that no farther delay will take place in commencing the operations of the company, in time for their execution during the courſe of the enſuing ſummer.
